Patty and Arantza

Challenges

Had some minor issues when duplicating files, but was able to succeed after a bit of trial and error.

Results

Here is our execution of the assignment and the functions working correctly:

Script Output

```

Here's your sorted name: aptty

And oh hey, I fixed your name.
Your new one is above.

Summary of your evaluation/efforts:

This project was doable with references, but I am a little unsure how I would do it on my own. With that being said, I know I can use references in the real world, and was trying to break down the reference code in my head to sort of translate it. I think I understand the difference between most things (arrays, functions, objects), but I also do definitely have a lot more to learn and clarify.
